

NON-EMERGENCY STRETCHER TRANSPORT WORKSHOP

February 24-25 2009

Marianna, Florida

The Florida Rural Transit Assistance Program (RTAP) in cooperation with the Center for Urban Transportation Research (CUTR) and the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) will be presenting the Non-Emergency Stretcher Transport (N.E.S.T.) Workshop, on February 24-25, 2009 at Marianna, Florida.

COURSE OBJECTIVE

The safe handling and transporting of clients presents the driver and the attendant with a broad spectrum of challenges. For this reason, we are presenting a course to discuss the meaning of the terms non-emergency and emergency conditions; raise awareness as how professionalism relates to roles of the non-emergency transport; review all aspects of the "request for transport"; examine the various equipment types; practice and be tested in the patient assessment procedure and collection of vital information; discuss sensitivity issues; and review proper vehicle control procedures and operation in defensive driving. Additional training in first responder curriculum will be discussed as well.

Upon completion, each attendee will receive an Instructor's Manual and associated training aids. Additionally, for each module completed, participants will receive a certificate of completion.
