COURSE OVERVIEW

Transit Terrorist Tools and Tactics (T-4) has been specifically designed to meet the security challenges faced by transit workers. During this three day course, you will acquire the knowledge, skills and abilities to detect, deter, prevent, mitigate and respond to the consequences of a chemical, biological, radiological, nuclear and/or explosive attack. The course teaches transit security authorities, local law enforcement officers and other emergency responders how to prevent, deter and, when necessary, respond to terrorist attacks in a mass transit environment.

This hands-on, performance-based training is specific to the challenges that are unique to transit systems. Under a grant from the Department of Homeland Security, Transit Terrorist Tools and Tactics (T4) includes an application module and an in-depth field exercise that allows participants to utilize specific types of technology. In addition to the equipment familiarization during the course, our facilitators can offer guidance and/or instruction for equipment that you may have already purchased or are considering purchasing.

The course will introduce mobile tools and techniques that can be used to identify articles, behavior and/or trends that are associated with the planning, support and operational activities related to terrorism. The course also addresses activities that constitute “suspicious behavior” and often forewarn of a pending terrorism plot.
