Transit Bus System Safety (FT00533)
The Florida Department of Transportation’s Florida Statewide Transit Training and Technical Assistance Program, administered by the Center for Urban Transportation Research (CUTR) will provide this 4 ½ day training December 2-6, 2013.

This course is sponsored by the Federal Transit Administration’s Office of Transit Safety and Security.

Date & Time:
December 2-6, 2013
8:00am-4:30pm (Monday-Thursday)
8:00am-12:00pm (Friday)

Host Agency:
USF—Center for Urban Transportation Research (CUTR)
4202 E. Fowler Ave-RM 102
Tampa, FL 33620

Overview:
This course presents a formalized, standardized approach to bus system safety concepts and program plans. Participants will receive instruction and guidance in developing and implementing a transit bus System Safety Program Plan which is critical to bus system safety.

Participants will learn the use of best practices in prevention of passenger incidents and vehicle collisions; how to select vehicle and facility design, operation security, and technology selection and maintenance. Identify behavioral safety concepts, as well as safety awareness and management; analyze collision tracking data and/or hazard analysis, including the solution to some of those problems.

Who should attend?

Fees:
There is a $110 materials fee that will be paid by FDOT’s Florida Statewide Transit Training and Technical Assistant Program for the first 12 registrants who are currently employed by a Florida public transportation agency. Once these 12 seats are filled, you may register directly through TSI at www.tsi.dot.gov, but will have to pay the $110 registration fee.

Participants must have permission from their supervisor/manager to attend this course. Upon acceptance of registration participants will receive an email confirmation.

Registration deadline is Friday, November 22, 2013

For disability accommodations, please contact Yolanda Moore at 813.974.7748 a minimum of ten (10) working days in advance to the training session. To review policies and procedures of the training programs visit: Transit Training Policy & Procedures
How to Register:

We are pleased to announce the launch of the Florida Department of Transportation’s (Office of Freight, Logistics and Passengers Operations) new Learning Management System (LMS) Transportation Learning. This new, online registration and training management system will provide Florida’s public transportation professional a portal to manage their professional development. Florida’s public transportation professionals may set up a unique user id and password to register online for upcoming transit training courses, including e-learning courses.

Transportation Learning manages training for you by keeping an educational transcript of all new courses that you complete, and a retrievable record is maintained so you may access (with a user id and password) Certificates of Completion, Certificates of Participation, retrieve course materials, etc. Transportation Learning will serve as the new method to register for new, online and classroom training courses.

Please follow the instructions below to setup a unique user id and password. Once you have a user id and password, you can register for courses.

Go to the following website: www.transportationlearning.org

Returning Users

- If you are a returning user, simply type your username and password.
- If you have forgotten your username and/or password select “Lost your Password” to request a copy of your password.
- When the dashboard appears, select “Add New Course” to enroll in desired course. Once enrolled the course will appear under new “My Courses”

IMPORTANT: You may use your personal or business email address, please remember the email account. If you create a separate account with an alternate email, you will have two separate training profiles. In some instances, this may require you to retake or restart a training course. If you already have an account on the Transportation Learning website, you will not need to use an enrollment key again.
